ARTHUR'S ADMINISTRATION.

The editor of the Chicago News wrote to some hundreds of persons for their opin-ion of President Arthur and his Adminis-tration, with the purpose of publishing the letters on the day the President would ar-rive in Chicago. The scheme was carried out and the following is a selection of the letters:

His wonders to perform, has made one rash man to undo and atone for the rash act of another. His administration has this blessed result, all his mistakes should be forgiven and forgotten. I wish that we had in the Democratic party so careful a leader, so skillful a pilot—a man so harmonizing in work. Placed where he is by accident, he has proved himself a greater man than any who have criticised him, and is making the present Administration the most creditable of any since the war began.

MARK TWAIN. Hartford, Conn., August 2. DEAR SIR-In the history of nations no chief executive in time of peace ever took office under circumstances of such serious personal embarrassment. It seem d a nopeless task for him to undertake to over-come the distrust and hostility of a large portion of those whose votes elected him to the Vice Presidency. By the exercise of patience and forbearance in respect to the unjust attacks which were made upon him, and by admirable act, affability and self-control in his per-sonal relations with men, he soon chal-tenged the just consideration of the coun-try. In exercising the powers of removal from and appointment to office, he disap-pointed his severest critics by not being inpointed his severest critics by not being influenced by a spirit of revenge. In dealing with public questions in general, he has shown a comprehensive knowledge of the affairs of government, and an earnest desire to promote the welfare of every part of the country; and of the whole people. Unless I am greatly mistaken, there is a constantly growing sentiment in the minds of the people of confidence and security in President Arthur's Administration, and in my judgment it is well deserved.

DEAR SIR—My personal and official intercourse with President Arthur has been of the pleasantest kind. I felt great sympathy for him when he entered upon his duties under circumstances of so much trial and delicacy, and great admiration for the manly and modest way in which he discharged them. The hop blight has appeared in some parts of Otsego and Madison counties, N. Y., and threatens to reduce the yield one-half or possibly more. These counties are in the centre of the hop-growing district of New York State.

The dead leaves on squash vines should be carefully removed and burned. They are usually infested with eggs of the equash bug, and the first leaves that appear are of no use as soon as others form, and are then sure to wither and die.

The Ohio Farmer says: "The longest liad tree is to be obtained by planting seeds where the tree is to grow and grafting it there without ever removing it, but it will be too long in coming into bearing; this is with apples and pears, but with the peach it is the way to insure the greatest possible hardiness with any given variety."

The Jews of New York.

It is often remarked in illustration of the cosmopolitan character and metropolitan greatness of New York that it contains more Irishmen than Dublin and more German-speaking people than any city in Germany except Berlin, while few have probably considered the no less interesting fact that it boasts a Jewish population larger than Jerusalem, or, for that matter, any other city in the world—competent judges placing the number at fully 100,000. From more than one point of view the Jews of New York constitute a city within a city.
